LIBERAL AID TO LABOR IS NOW STARTED

Liberals Abstain From Voting on Coal Mines Bill Amendments to Save Government

MAJORITY IN HOUSE DISLIKE MEASURE

For Liberal Help Motion to Restore Defeated Amendment Is Allowed to Drop

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, April 1.—At least a temporary working arrangement was inaugurated between the Labor Government and the Liberals of the House of Commons tonight in regard to the Government's Coal Mines Bill.

Sir Herbert Samuel, the noted Liberal who has often been the party spokesman, declared that while the Liberals disliked many provisions of the bill they deemed it their duty at the present juncture to take no action which would tend to create a grave political crisis.

LIBERALS ABSTAIN

The Liberals abstained from voting today on several amendments and the Government was thereby enabled to obtain majorities in the neighborhood of fifty. Thus it seems as though the greatest immediate danger of the Labor Administration in the House of Commons has been averted.

It was on March 11, that the Government was defeated, when a Conservative amendment wiping out the central levy proposal was passed by a Conservative-Liberal coalition. The Government lost by eight votes and was sustained by a majority of seventy-three two days later when Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader, moved a vote of censure to which the Liberals did not subscribe.

CONCESSION TO LIBERALS

The Ministry, in return for the Liberal concession of today, has used its influence to obtain the dropping of a Labor back bench motion which aimed at restoring the central levy proposal, which caused the Government's defeat, a defeat which Prime Minister MacDonald minimized as being only a minor issue.

An unimportant Government defeat occurred in the House of Lords when a minor amendment to the Scottish Land Drainage Bill was passed by 60 votes to the Government's measure 13. The Lords boast 700 members, however, and such defeats are becoming to have but small political significance.

COMMITTS BROKER

HAMILTON, Ont., April 1.—In a written judgment handed down today by the police magistrate here, Mr. Charles E. Weller, former local stock broker, was committed for trial on four charges of theft and conversion arising from stock transactions. Defence counsel had contended that Mr. Weller could not be held criminally responsible for actions of a joint stock company.

MR. SAPIRO TELLS POOL OF FAILURE

Blames It for Speculating and Declares It Can Never Control Wheat Industry

DROP OF PRICE DUE TO MISMANAGEMENT

(Associated Press)

BERKELEY, Cal., April 1.—Mr. Aaron Sapiro, Chicago attorney and national authority on co-operative selling, in an address at the University of California here tonight, said the solution of American and Canadian farm problems lay in organization of co-operative bodies on a commodity basis rather than on a basis of local organization.

The Federal Farm Board should do all in its power to aid in organization of such co-operatives, he added.

DENONCES METHODS

Denouncing what he termed use of speculative methods in agricultural problems, Sapiro said the farm board by attempting to maintain fixed prices in cotton and wheat under loose financial arrangements with growers had cast the country millions of dollars, and so far failed to produce satisfactory results.

A similar unfortunate situation, he said, was created in Canada by the Canadian Wheat Pool, which controls 90 per cent of the Dominion wheat.

Describing the Canadian Wheat Pool, Mr. Sapiro said the pool failed to carry out its duties successfully because it attempted to speculate in wheat, instead of acting solely as a marketing organization. He attributed the drop on Canadian wheat to this mismanagement and

BOARD UNDER PICTURES ACT IS SELECTED

Examiners in Picture Theatres Will Be Fire Marshal, Messrs. H. L. Taylor and W. A. Oswald

RULE RELAXED ON PROJECTIONISTS

Mr. J. A. Thomas, Mr. H. L. Taylor and Mr. W. A. Oswald, all of Vancouver, have been appointed by the Provincial Government as members of the Board of Examiners under the Moving Pictures Act.

The function of the board is to examine carefully the operators and the projection machines in the motion picture theatres and see that all possible steps are taken in the interests of public safety in the conduct of picture shows.

All members of the board are particularly well qualified to direct such examinations. Mr. Thomas is the Provincial Fire Marshal, Mr. Taylor is inspector of theatres, and Mr. Oswald is inspector of electrical energy.

An order in council has been passed by the Executive Council amending the regulations governing picture theatres. The regulations formerly provided that there should be two first-class projectionists employed in each theatre. Under the new rules the Board of Examiners is permitted to allow, in certain cases, where the circumstances warrant, the employment of one first-class projectionist and a helper.

NO AID FOR UNEMPLOYED BY CABINET

Unemployment Insurance Question Creates Lively Debate in House of Commons

LABOR MINISTER'S SPEECH IS QUOTED

Mr. Heenan Says While He Favors Insurance, Matter Is One for Provinces to Act On

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Ont., April 1.—The unemployment situation in Canada again formed the subject of debate in the House of Commons today. With the amendment of A. A. Heaps, Labor member for Winnipeg North, on the order paper, members once more emphasized the gravity of the situation in various parts of the Dominion and urged upon the Government the need for Federal relief.

The adoption of some system of unemployment insurance to meet the recurring periods of unemployment was requested.

MR. HEAPS' AMENDMENT

Mr. Heaps' amendment was moved yesterday to a Government motion that the House resolve itself into a committee of supply. The amendment sets forth that "in the opinion of this House the Government should take immediate action to deal with the question of unemployment."

Today J. S. Woodsworth, Labor member for Winnipeg North Centre, asked the Minister of Labor to state definitely the attitude of the Government with respect to unemployment insurance. Mr. Woodsworth informed the House that a report of a speech made by Mr. Heenan, a couple of weeks ago in London, Ont., quoted the Minister of Labor as saying that the Government was willing to co-operate with the provinces in establishing unemployment insurance. This report had been widely circulated, giving rise to a belief that some such system was in contemplation.

MR. HEENAN REPLIES

In later debate Mr. Heenan replied that, while he favored unemployment insurance, he thought it was primarily a provincial responsibility. Premier Mackenzie King had stated that the Dominion was prepared to co-operate in some such system if invited to do so by the provinces.

No Strike Yet Of Miners in Alberta Mines

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 1.—Though April 1 brought the termination of the old agreement under which miners in the Lethbridge and Crow's Nest Pass fields have been working for the past two years, no strike has been called. Several mines in the Crow's Nest Pass are working today. Lethbridge mines are idle because of lack of orders.

Operators are still refusing to consider any blanket wage agreement with the Mine Workers' Union of Canada. They hold that they will deal direct with the men in each mine as a group, but will not recognize the union authority on a wider basis. It is planned by the Lethbridge mine workers to take a vote during the coming week-end to decide whether they shall apply to the Minister of Labor for a conciliation board under the Lethbridge Act to consider the differences between mine operators and men.

FAMOUS PAINTER DIES

LISBON, April 1.—Antonio Carneiro, famous landscape and religious art painter, died today at Oporto. His recent exhibition of church paintings in Brazil earned him great honor.

Ship's Officer Nearly Loses His Life In Determination to Save Cat

(Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—Stories of how a ship's officer was swept overboard during a terrific storm because of his determination to save the life of a pet cat were told today by the crew of the El Lobo, as the crippled tanker lay at dock here.

The South American craft was pounded almost to pieces last Tuesday, 200 miles off the coast of Florida, while en route from La Libertad to this city with 50,000 barrels of oil.

During the worst of the storm a lookout saw Chief Engineer Rudolph Neacaste creeping along the wave-washed deck after the ship's mascot. Just then a huge wave struck the tanker. The craft was buried in foam, and both cat and aspiring rescuer were lost to sight. When the decks rose again to view both were gone. Chief Mate Frank Muldrew rushed for a life preserver and, after several tries, landed it near the floundering engineer, who had meanwhile grabbed the cat in his arms. Both were then pulled back on board.

The waves had washed all the El Lobo's lifeboats away, the wireless was disabled and it was two days before messages could be sent out. The storm left the El Lobo badly crippled, and it took four days to make Philadelphia.

Bishop to Be Consecrated in Toronto, May 7

A telegram received here yesterday from Toronto brings the information that the consecration of Rev. Gerald Murray, as Bishop of Victoria, will take place in Toronto on Wednesday, May 7.

This explicit news has more definite outline to the programme at this end, as it is possible to make an approximate estimate that the new Bishop's installation will take place about three weeks later, May 28 or 29. While the tentative plans may be proceeded with on this basis, it will still be impossible, until the receipt of further information concerning his departure from Toronto to draw up a detailed programme for the several receptions which are contemplated after His Lordship's arrival here.

Father Murray is head of the Benedictine Order in Canada, and has much important business to settle before he leaves Toronto to take over the onerous duties of his new office.

BUSINESS OF LOCAL FIRM IS ACQUIRED

Messrs. Evans, Coleman & Evans, Ltd., Buy Out Messrs. Johnson Bros., Builders' Supplies

TO USE REBUILT DOCK IN HARBOR

Evans, Coleman & Evans, Limited, well known here as dealers in builders' supplies, mining machinery, iron and steel products, has taken over the business of Johnson Bros., purveyors of builders' supplies of all descriptions.

Controlled by such prominent Victorians as Sir Frank Barnard, Mr. Robert P. Hutchart, Senator G. H. Barnard and Mr. H. A. Ross, operations will be carried on under the name of Evans, Coleman & Johnson, and material warehousemen, wharfingers and shipping agents for many of the coastal freighters calling here. The new organization also includes the business of Johnson Bros., New Westminster, towboat operators, and McCleery & Western, of Marpole.

Messrs. Byron Johnson and John W. Johnson, operating as Johnson Bros., recently acquired a franchise on Store and Herald Streets, building thereon a substantial brick building with a spur track leading to the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway.

Parliament Will Be Asked to Agree To Use of Court

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, April 1.—Parliamentary approval will be asked in respect to the declaration signed on behalf of Canada by Senator Raoul Dandurand accepting the jurisdiction of the permanent Court of International Justice in regard to certain international disputes which may arise. The declaration was signed at Geneva on September 20 last, previous to the execution by Canada of the optional clause. A resolution calling for approval of the declaration appears on the order paper of the House of Commons.

MAN FOUND SHOT

WINNIPEG, Man., April 1.—Ken Felt, thirty-year-old silversmith, was found dead today in his downtown rooming house. A bullet had pierced his heart and a revolver lay at his side. It has not yet been decided whether an inquest will be held.

VERDICT EXPECTED FROM JURY TODAY

The trial began, yesterday, in assize court, before Mr. Justice Murphy, of C. Dawley and C. Vipond on two charges: one of breaking into and entering the house of Mrs. E. More, on Monterey Avenue, on March 1, and stealing $5, the property of Mrs. More; the second of stealing $15 from Mrs. Skwerd, the sister of Mrs. More, on the same date. Evidence for both the prosecution and the defence had concluded when the court adjourned until this morning. It is expected that a verdict will be reached today.

Mr. H. W. R. Moore acted for the Crown, and Mr. D. B. Tait appeared for the defence.

Evidence for the prosecution was similar to that given at the preliminary hearing. Mrs. More testified that on March 1 she had left the

Wheat Pool Heads Explain Why They Refused Advice Given by Lord Privy Seal

(Canadian Press)
WINNIPEG, April 1.—Officials of Canada's wheat pool made no denial today that they had spurned the grain-marketing advice offered by Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Minister of Employment in the British Cabinet. In the House of Commons at London today, Mr. Thomas stated that he advised the pool to sell wheat last Fall when it was quoted at $1.47 per bushel so that he could get coal for return cargoes.

POOL'S ATTITUDE

While the pool men refused to comment on the remarks of the Lord Privy Seal, attitude of the organization on both the market of last Fall and the proposition for coal-and-wheat cargo exchanges is well known. Pool officials have not hesitated to label the high prices of last Fall as "artificial." And at Regina recently, President A. J. McPhail of the pool, stated that the attitude taken by "coal people" in Canada forced abandonment of a British Government proposal which might have aided the coal-wheat exchanges.

Suggestion by Mr. Thomas that the pool sell out on the high price market no doubt came at the time of his visit to Winnipeg last September. Such a proposal would have paralleled the attitude of critics of the pool who have long contended that the farmers' body failed to dispose of its wheat at the right time. Referring to the British minister's initial attitude, Mr. McPhail recently said:

ABSORBING PROPAGANDA

"It is quite evident that Mr. Thomas had been absorbing a great deal of the propaganda that was circulated at the time regarding the supposed policy of the pool in deliberately holding up the sale of wheat at higher prices in the future. We proved to him that our policy of the pool in this Dominion, suggested by the Government, was to sell wheat at the highest price obtainable at the time of sale."

OTTAWA, April 1.—Canada's new Grain Act is considered by the committee of the House of Commons on agriculture and colonies today. The new act is a consolidation and revision of the old measure, but involves no change in the operation of the legislation except on minor points.

Asks Scientists to Hold Conference in New Zealand

(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)
WELLINGTON, New Zealand, April 1.—Lord Bledisloe, new Governor-General, is making an effort to have the British Association for the Advancement of Science hold its 1934 conference in this Dominion. As an old member of the association council, he has called an invitation to England with the consent of the New Zealand Government, suggesting the honor would be fitting recognition for the work being done in many branches of science in New Zealand.

ST. HELEN'S, Ore., April 1.—Harbor patrolmen late today recovered the body of Leslie Seigel, twenty-five, of Vancouver, Wash., from the Columbia River, near the spot where the coastwise steamer Davenport and the pleasure barge Swan collided early Sunday and brought death to four others.

With the finding of Seigel's body the death toll grew to five, and the missing list lessened to three.

Dominion Premiers Prefer Outsider Should Be Governor-General

(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)
CANBERRA, Australia, April 1.—Prime Minister Henry Scullin, in the House of Representatives today, politely refused to divulge any information about the Governor-General of Australia who is to succeed Lord Stonehaven. He indicated, however, the next Governor-General would not be an Australian, and expressed displeasure that questions should be asked.

There was no reason why Australians were "disqualified" from becoming Governor-General of the Commonwealth, he told a questioner.

Asked whether the Government intended to dispense with the usual procedure regarding the appointment of "an Imperial Governor-General," the Prime Minister said, "I have no doubt the man appointed will be Imperial, inasmuch as he will be someone in the Empire."

The question of appointing a Governor-General who was born in the country of his appointment was also raised in the Union of South Africa some months ago, when the Prime Minister of the Nationalist Government, Rt. Hon. J. B. Hertzog, indicated it would be difficult to secure in South Africa a man so free from party or race bias as would be a disinterested Governor-General selected from other parts of the Empire.

THREE-POWER TREATY NOW ALMOST SURE

Favorable Reply From Japan Opens Way to Negotiation of Pact So Long Sought

OPTIMISM GROWING FOR MORE RESULTS

Question of Franco-Italian Parity Is Obstacle in Way of Five-Power Treaty

(Associated Press)

LONDON, April 1.—Japan has joined the British-American consortium for naval disarmament, thereby assuring the basic success of the London conference with at least a three-power treaty.

A five-power agreement, including France and Italy, still hangs in the balance. Both Foreign Minister Briand of France and Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain said tonight that the gulf was narrowing rapidly on the security issue, but even with that chasm bridged an old terror, Franco-Italian parity, still threatens difficulties.

JAPAN IS FAVORABLE

The Japanese Government's favorable reply to participation in a five-year limitation programme, proposed by Great Britain and the United States, was received by the Japanese delegation early this afternoon. It was decoded and studied, and a formal answer to Prime Minister MacDonald is expected tomorrow morning.

IMPORTANT RESERVATIONS WILL BE ATTACHED TO THE JAPANESE ACCEPTANCE, BUT THEY AFFECT THE PRINCIPLES OF NATIONAL, NAVAL RATIOS RATHER THAN THE LIMITATION OF CONSTRUCTION PROGRAMMES WHICH, BY SETTLEMENT CAN BE ARRIVED AT HERE, SHOULD CARRY CHEER FOR BRITISH, JAPANESE AND AMERICAN TAXPAYERS.

Premier MacDonald and Mr. Simonson are highly pleased because the long weeks of delicate negotiations with Tokyo finally are ready to be crowned with success, and in their elation they redoubled their efforts to extend the three-power understanding to an all-embracing five-power agreement.

PROGRESS REPORTED

The British spokesman today reported progress in the hunt for a European security formula, but no concrete facts were offered to substantiate the reports. Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, the British Foreign Secretary, continued negotiations with M. Briand. A new development was the enlisting of

DRAUGHTSMAN PROMOTED TO HIGHER POST

Mr. F. O. Morris, of Department of Lands, Becomes Assistant Surveyor General

LONG RECORD IN CIVIL SERVICE

Appointment of Mr. Frank Ormond Morris, Victoria, chief draughtsman of the Department of Lands, to the position of assistant surveyor-general of British Columbia, was announced by the Provincial Government yesterday.

Mr. Morris has been continuously identified with the Lands Department in this province for nearly a quarter of a century.

The new assistant surveyor-general entered the Government service here in June, 1907, being employed in the survey branch, Department of Lands, under the late Mr. E. B. McKee, surveyor-general. In 1911, when the late Mr. J. E. Umbach was appointed surveyor-general, Mr. Morris was chosen for the post of chief draughtsman, which office he has continued to fill until the present time.

Official announcement was also made of the appointment of Mr. F. C. Green, Victoria, consultant engineer, to the post of surveyor-general of British Columbia, filling the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. J. E. Umbach several weeks ago.

Mr. Green has been a leader in both the surveying and engineering professions for many years in this province, and he is eminently qualified to assume the duties of the office for which he has been selected.

DIVORCE BILL SAFELY PAST SECOND STAGE

Much - Contested Measure
Which Has Gone Through Hectic Times Gets Second Reading

PARTY LINES SPLIT IN EVERY DIVISION

OTTAWA, April 1.—A majority of thirteen votes carried the Ontario
Divorce Bill, sponsored by Mr.
J. S. Woodsworth, Labor member for Winnipeg North Centre, through second reading in the House of Commons tonight. The division on the second reading resulted in an even hundred of the members present voting for the bill while eighty-seven were opposed.

The division on the second reading followed a last-minute effort of the opponents of the measure to kill the bill. Mr. George Spotton, Conservative member for North
Huron, moved the six months' hold.
His second was Mr. M. J. Heppburn, Liberal member for West Elgin. This motion, however, met with defeat
by the same majority that later on gave the bill approval. House divided, for, eighty-five; against, ninety-eight.

LEADERS ALLIED

The leaders of both the principal parties in the House, Premier Mac-Kenzie King and Hon. R. B. Bennett, supported the motion for second reading of the bill. They also voted against the motion that it be read "this day six months." Their followers, however, split. Unanimous support for second reading came from the Progressive, U.P.A. and Labor benches.

The Woodsworth bill has reached its present standing only after a somewhat hectic career in the House. There have been five divisions already in connection with this measure. It was defeated on second reading by the narrow majority of one vote. Subsequently a motion to have it replaced on the order paper carried again on division; then came another amendment, which required the spread of divorce in Canada, and which met with defeat. The remaining two divisions took place tonight.

The bill will now be considered in committee.

GRAIN ACT OF CANADA UNDER MUCH DEBATE

SOME discussion arose over the duties of the Board of Grain Commissioners. The act requires the board to investigate complaints as to the operation of elevators made in writing. Some members from the West thought this was too slow
and that the requirements of writing should be eliminated. Several contentious clauses were left out until the board should be present.

In reply to a question of Mr. W.
E. Rowe (Conservative, Dufferin-Simcoe), Hon. James Macdonald, Minister of Agriculture, said the administration of the Canada Grain Act did not cost the people of Canada a cent. All expenses, interest charges and depreciation of Government buildings were met out of fees collected from the growers of grain.

Making Attempt To Save Bodies Of Dead Miners

KETTLE ISLAND, Ky., April 1.— Volunteer rescue workers who for three days and nights have been risking their lives in the hope of saving sixteen men entombed Saturday by an explosion, risked them again tonight to restore bodies to

The hope was expressed that the remaining ten might be reached late tonight or tomorrow morning. Six bodies were brought out last night and taken to Pineville, and hope was abandoned that the others might have survived.

Statistician Andrew Cairns of the status of prices as being "artificial"

artificial prices which prevailed here is perfectly true that neither the wheat for export without completely

account of his position as President of the League of Nations covenant and continue these security discussions

tomorrow.

Prime Minister MacDonald, in the House of Commons today, again inquired the nature of the problem which still must be solved to bring about a five-power agreement. He replied to a question that the British Government had no intention of entering into any commitment which would bind the obligations resulting from the League covenant and the Locarno pact. He added, too, that the French Government had never asked the British to add to the burdens devolving upon them as a result of these instruments.

Mr. Briand tonight expressed appreciation of the British Govern-cleared French skirts of any new accusation of entangling Italy into further

REPORT FORMULA FOUND

LONDON, April 2 (Wednesday).—
The Daily Herald, Labor party organ, says this morning that as a result of conversations yesterday between Foreign Secretary R. B. Am-thorpe and Mr. Arthur Henderson, of Great Britain, and Foreign Minister Briand, of France,
a formula has been found which will give France the security she has been demanding and enable her to enter a five-power naval disarmament treaty.

A draft of this formula, according to The Herald, was sent to Paris last night for thorough consideration by Premier Andre Tardieu and the French Cabinet.

The newspaper understands that in view of these circumstances, Italy has at last agreed to eliminate the contentious word "party" with reference to her naval claims, which has been a rigid barrier in Franco-Italian negotiations.

The Daily Mail, Conservative, also reports that a draft formula was sent to Paris, adding that Foreign Minister Briand expressed approval of it in general terms.

The Mail thinks that the French Government's approval is therefore probable.

Mrs. Sworder gave evidence that she had left $15 in bills and a small gone. Part of it was a $10 bill. A

J. J. Miller, the next witness, said that on the day in question he had been in front of his house about opposite to Mrs. More's, and had seen two men enter the gate to Mrs.
More's premises and go round the side of the house on a walk leading to the door of the kitchen. They had come back again after about ten or fifteen minutes. Witness identified the prisoners as the men he had seen. He had picked them out of a number of men lined up at the police station, without any difficulty or doubt. This was between 3 and 4 o'clock.

sions With Destruction

DEPREDAATIONS ARE DESTROYING WORK

AMOY, China, April 1.—Communist political interference has forced the mission of the Reformed Church of America to withdraw its workers from the interior districts of South Fukien Province.

MOVING HANDS HOSTILE

The mission, which has headquarters in Philadelphia, has been active in Christian affairs in this part of China for many years, and heretofore has been permitted to carry on unhampered its business of converting Chinese to the religion of the Westerner.

WITHIN THE PAST YEAR, COMMUNIST UPRISINGS AND DEPREDAATIONS OF ROVING BANDS OF UNATTACHED SOLDIERS AND BANDITS HAVE COMBINED TO MAKE THE WORK OF THE MISSIONARIES EXCEEDINGLY DIFFICULT.

Luncenyehow, one of the largest cities in the interior where the Reformed Church carried on extensive operations, has been definitely abandoned. The city was partly destroyed last June by revolutionary forces and the mission property left in ruins. Dr. C. H. Holleman, head of the Luncenyehow mission, was taken captive and held for ransom,
but later was released.

DAWLEY'S EXPLANATION

Dawley, like Vipond, was called to the witness box by the defence. His evidence was similar to that of Vipond. Cross-examination, however, brought out two points.
Witness had paid out a number of twenty-five-cent bills, he said in answer to a question. He had not taken them from a place where such bills had recently been stolen, he said. He had for some time been saving them up as curiosities, but had got tired of this, and had decided to spend them.

HUNDRED DIE A DAY

(Canadian Press)
NEW YORK, April 1.—People are dying the rate of 100 a day in the plains of Shenai Province in the famine-stricken area of China, according to a report received today
from Mr. Philip S. Dutton, at Taku, in North China.

Mrs. Dutton, formerly of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., estimates that by the beginning of Summer two-thirds of the population "will be dead. The inhabitants, she says, are tearing down their houses and selling the material to obtain money for food. In every yard is a pile of leaves which the owners are eating. When the leaves are gone they will die. Mrs. Dutton says.

Immense Sum Is Spent for Help Of Unemployed

(Canadian Press Cable)
LONDON, April 1.—Answering questions in the House of Commons this afternoon, Rt. Hon. J.
H. Thomas said the estimated cost of approved schemes to alleviate unemployment up to the end of March was more than $350,000,000.
This amount was expended under the Development Act, the Colonial Development Act (which provides for works in the non-self-governing colonies) and the domestic unemployment relief programme.

Mr. Thomas added assurance that he was doing all that was humanly possible to speed up such schemes.

Mr. W. J. Locke Is Critically Ill After Operation

PARIS, April 1.—Mr. William J.
Locke, British novelist, who has charmed a generation of readers with his romantic tales, underwent a dangerous abdominal operation today and tonight was making a stubborn fight for life. His doctors said his condition was "extremely critical."

The operation, described as "very severe," was said to have been successful, but left him very weak. A crisis was expected to come early tomorrow and the doctors said the chances were against his recovery.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Abe Muirney, beer runner and hoodlum, was shot to death early today in a West Side hotel room. His body had been tossed into a clothes closet, and out- side the door, down a rear corridor, a gun was found.

FAINT, DIZZY SPELLS Had to Sleep Propped Up in Bed

Mrs. Norman Bishop, Salisbury, N.B., writes:—"I was troubled with faint and dizzy spells and when I would lie down I would suffer terribly with another spell. I got so bad I had to sleep propped up in bed."

"My doctor said it was my heart and nerves, and that I needed a good heart tonic."

"I was advised to take

and I had not taken one box when I could lie down and sleep like a

New Chancellor Of Germany Has Made Defiance

BERLIN, April 1.—Dr. Heinrich Bruening, Germany's new Chancellor, today outlined the Government's programme in one of the briefest declarations of any new Cabinet

since the founding of the Republic and asked the Reichstag for a vote of confidence.

In his talk he said the time for quick action had come and warned
the present Reichstag that it was its last chance for the adoption of needed legislation.

Dr. Bruening has been authorized by President Von Hindenburg to dissolve Parliament should a motion of non-confidence be carried against the Government.

Mr. John F. Greenslade Tells How Cuticura Healed Scalp Trouble.

"First my hair became dry and brittle and then my scalp became covered with scales. I also had pimples on my scalp which were very itchy and caused me to scratch. My hair was falling out fast. The irritation caused loss of sleep."

"I tried several other remedies without success. I began using Cuticure Soap and Ointment and got some relief after the first application.
I kept on using them for three weeks and the scales, pimples and irritation completely disappeared. I was healed." (Signed) John F.

Needless Pain!

Nowadays, people take Aspirin for many little aches and pains, and as often as they encounter any pain.

Why not? It is a proven analdote for pain. It works!

And Aspirin tablets are absolutely harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that;
they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuritis, neuralgia, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to an Aspirin tablet for relief.

Aspirin is always available, and it never fails to help. Familiarize yourself with its many uses, and avoid a lot of needless suffering.

POULTRY OF CANADA SHOWS BEST OF ALL

Mr. F. C. Elford Gives Interesting Address to Agricultural Group of Victoria Chamber

MANY COUNTRIES OF EUROPE DESCRIBED

"The poultry of Canada shows to better advantage than that of any other country on earth in almost any country or climate where it is exhibited," said Mr. F. C. Elford,
president of the World's Poultry Science Association, and first vice-president of the World's Poultry Congress, in addressing a special meeting of the Agricultural Group of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the dining-room of the chamber yesterday.

Among a number of guests were Professor Straight, of the Dominion Experimental Station; Mr. Alister
Forbes, president of the Canadian Poultry Pool, and Mr. J. B. Munro, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for British Columbia.

Mr. Elford spoke of the World's Poultry Congress, which will be held in London next July. A special liner, he said, had been chartered to leave Montreal on July 12, and would carry Canadian and United States delegates to England, and the speaker felt that at least 800 Canadians should attend the congress,
which would be opened by His Majesty, the King. After sessions, lasting for eleven days, he continued, there would be a reception, either at Buckingham Palace or at Windsor, and the delegates would visit other parts of the British Isles and certain places on the continent.

CANADA'S BIGGEST EVENT
"Do you realize," continued the speaker, "that it was the poultry industry which was responsible for the biggest event in the history of Canada? In the year 1927 the insignificant little hen was the means of bringing representatives of no less than forty-three countries to the World Congress held at Ottawa.
Upon this occasion, His Excellency the Governor General said: 'This is not a poultry show; it is something greater than the League of Nations.'
"Previous to the 1927 congress, Canada had displayed thirty-four birds as a kind of show window exhibit in Barcelona, and it was at Ottawa that she made this sample good."

"There are no better means of advertising Canada than such events
as the Poultry Congress and the Grain Congress, and it is my hope that, when we sail for England in July, we will take with us 1,000

will come from this province.

TOUR THROUGH EUROPE

The speaker went on to give a brief description of a recent tour
through Europe and Asia Minor.
Everywhere, he said, he had been received with the greatest courtesy and kindness. It was a significant fact that, in the thirty countries
which he had visited in his official capacity, there were only three ministers of agriculture who could not speak English. In Angora, in Turkey, he was told that he was the first official to pay a friendly visit since the end of the war.

Mr. Elford said that he was a great believer in first impressions,
and that he had not found a single country which had not something particular to recommend it. He spoke, among other countries, of Finland; rough and crude in many ways, yet where an ordinary man of business men was attended in full evening dress. Finland, he added, was working day and night
to repair her nation.

Of all European peoples which the speaker had visited, he was most impressed by the Poles. The Czechs
he continued, were also a wonderful people, laboring ceaselessly to regain their birthright. Austria had a terribly depleted population, and, in Vienna, half of the citizens were civil servants.

BURDENED WITH DEBT
Hungary was a country worked by the old feudal system, with a capital which was the most beautiful speaker had seen. Rumania, on the other hand, was proportionately the richest and most fertile country in Europe. It had soil in the Valley of the Danube which had been cropped for two thousand years, which still grew corn eight feet high, but which had not had a spoonful of manure or fertilizer put back into it.

"We have heard a great deal of talk about hard times in Canada," said Mr. Elford, in conclusion. "I can only say that I see absolutely no indication of it. My own impression is that Canada, at her worst, is many degrees better than most European countries at the best."

MR. FOWLER'S TRIBUTE

In asking Major H. C. Fowler Holmes to propose a formal vote of thanks to the speaker, Mr. P. B.
Fowler, who presided at the lunchon, said that he had never been interested in poultry until the morning, when a number of Rhode Island Reds had wrecked his best bed of tulips. After having heard Mr. El-ford speak, he had come to the conclusion that what he had at first regarded as an unwarrantable outrage was simply "a floral tribute cast at the feet of a noble bird."

In moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Elford, Major Holmes said that it was becoming more and more evident that the future of Vancouver Island lay, not in large
farms, but in small holdings, more
of agriculture, therefore, was
more suitable than the poultry industry, and there was nothing which
could be of greater assistance to
such an industry than an organization such as that of which Mr. El-
ford was the head.

Wealth of Rocky Mountains Might Pay Empire Debt

OTTAWA, Ont., April 1.—Declaring
the future greatness of the Dominion lies in the wealth of her mines, Mr. J. C. Brady, Member of Parliament from Skeena, B.C., asserted in addressing an Ottawa service club that the future of Vancouver Island lay, not in large
of agriculture, therefore, was
more suitable than the poultry in-
could be of greater assistance to
such an industry than an organization such as that of which Mr. El-
ford was the head.

Mr. Brady said he made his prediction in the face of the fact that hundreds of millions of wealth have been taken from the ground in British Columbia.

The high cost of transportation,
the speaker continued, constitutes the present day bar to more rapid mining development in the Pacific Coast province.

Great Work

ADELAIDE, South Australia, April 1.—Scarred by blizzards of the Antarctic, the ship Discovery, with members of the Sir Douglas Mawson expedition, reached here
today.

Sir Douglas, who sailed from Cape Town last October, said that considering the discovery of a tremen-complished and several hundred miles added to the coastline of Antarctica. Notable results had been achieved through scientific investigations in the whaling areas,

he reported.

useful during our stay in the Far South," he said. "Our plans for the future are indefinite and no complished will be available for some days."

Appointment of Enumerators Has No Significance

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, April 1.—A recent request issued from Ottawa to returning officers for the appointment of enumerators by May 15, is merely a step towards carrying out arrangements to the Dominion Elections Act passed last session. It was stated today. It is officially declared that this request under the amended act has "no election significance."

Under amendments passed during the 1929 session of Parliament it was stipulated that returning officers appointment should "forthwith" divide their electoral districts into polling subdivisions. The act as amended is only workable by the selection of enumerators and rural registrars in advance, and it is announced for this reason and to facilitate action, returning officers were recently requested to appoint enumerators by May 15.

ARCTIC HOSPITAL

Effort Is Being Made to Raise Funds for Institution in Northeastern Canada

The Archdeacon of the Arctic, Ven. A. L. Fleming, has received much publicity in the Old Country with regard to his wide jurisdiction
among miners, traders and Eskimo tribes during his present visit, and the newspapers have been specially intrigued by the fact that the Archdeacon of Alaska has also been touring there in the past Winter, the archdeacon's meeting by accident
at an old cathedral city to exchange greetings.

Mr. Fleming's objective, among other matters, is to raise funds for a hospital at Lake Harbor, Baffinland, Franklin District, to represent medical service along somewhat similar lines to the hospital at Ak-lavik, Mackenzie River basin.

The appeal in Canada for this hospital is being handled at the Church House, 604 Jarvis Street, Toronto.

Col. Ralston to Come Back From London Parley

By THOMAS T. CHAMPTION

Canada Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, April 1.—Colonel J. L.
Ralston, head of the Canadian delegation to the Naval Conference, will steamer Scythia, which sails next Saturday.

The leadership of the Canadian delegation will be taken over by Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian minister at Paris, and the remainder

Heavy pressure of parliamentary and departmental duties attached to his post as Minister of National De-

A. T. WEIGHT IS TO FACE TRIAL

Three Men Must Now Appear at Assizes, Charged With Fraudulent

THREE INVOLVED IN WALLIS CASE

Yesterday morning, in the city police court, Magistrate George Jay committed for trial Stanley E.
Wallis, manager of Consolidated Motors (Victoria) Limited, and A.
T. Weight, who had once been a salesman of the firm, on a charge of conspiring to obtain money under false pretences from Rithet Consolidated, Limited.

The defence, with Mr. Stuart Henderson appearing for Wallis, and Mr.
C. H. O'Halloran for Weight, put no witnesses on the stand yesterday,
and, upon being asked whether they wished to make any statement in their own behalf, both the accused remained silent.

The prosecution was conducted by Mr. C. L. Harrison, and had to do with the financing by Rithet Consolidated of the alleged purchase of a 1930 Humobile sedan by Weight
from the Consolidated Motors (Victoria) Limited. According to yesterday's evidence there was no such car in existence with serial and motor numbers corresponding to those on the contract document.

$1,691.95 CHANGES HANDS
Mr. Louis M. Corke, of 1229 Ocar
Street, accountant for Rithet Consolidated, was the first witness called. He identified the contract tract as that which Wallis had brought to his office on November 18 last year, witness stated that the document was discounted, and the sum of $1,691.95 paid over to Wallis.

To cover this amount, twelve prom-issory notes, bearing Weight's signature, were handed over to Rithet Consolidated. Of these, two had been met, and two were now overdue.

Last Wednesday morning, continued Mr. Corke, he had had an interview in his office with Weight,
who admitted that he did not know
that any such car existed, but stated that "he wanted to check up on it."
Weight also had identified his own signature on the agreement form.

"I asked him why he did it," continued witness, "and he replied that he wanted to help Wallis, who had told him that he was in temporary financial straits, and wanted the money to pay for a car, which he which he had on the floor of his showroom."

WALLIS TO MEET NOTES

Witness stated that Weight had told him he signed the notes on the distinct understanding that these would be met by Wallis, who had clearly indicated that he (Weight) would not have to meet the payments. Weight had said that notes from Rithet Consolidated regarding payment had been turned over to Wallis.

"He told me that he could not meet the remaining notes, and asked what I would advise him to do about it," continued witness, "and advised him to raise the money as quickly as possible."

The second witness was Mr. Benjamin Good, accountant of Consolidated Motors, Limited, of Vancouver, who, upon being shown the contractual agreement, testified that there was no car such as was therein described.

At this point the prosecution closed its case, and, upon Mr. Henderson declaring that there was no evidence of conspiracy, Magistrate remarked that Weight's signature on the notes was sufficient proof that Weight knew there was no such car.

Wallis remains in custody, but both Weight and Emerson were granted bail by Judge Lemman on posting of $5,000 in two sureties.

THE GREAT-WEST "PROSPERITY" POLICY

Is a new plan specially designed for men who desire early financial independence. Example: Man, aged 25, deposits $131.50 annually. At age 60 he has the option of drawing a monthly income of $100 for life or a guaranteed lump sum of $14,300—plus substantial accumulated profits.
In the event of death, his family inherits the full benefits.

The New Great-West "Prosperity" plan affords special

HIGH RECORD OF SUNSHINE IS ATTAINED

Warm Days in Latter Part of March Carried Figures Above Monthly Average

RAINFALL STILL BELOW AVERAGE

March closed with a remarkable record in sunshine, of 164.54 hours, compared with 156 hours average for the month. During the last four days the sunshine total was equal to an average of ten hours per day,
and the above aggregate is exceptional when it is recalled that on four days of the month no sunshine was recorded at Gonzales Observatory.

The rainfall was 2.24 inches in the month or, allowing for snow, 2.25 inches precipitation, being a fraction above the average precipitation for the month.

The rainfall for the three months
of 1930 has been 8.52 inches, as against the three-month average of 9.83 inches. The reason for this situation is the three weeks' frost
in January.

The mean temperature, according to Mr. F. Napier Denison, superintendent of the observatory, was 45 degrees in the month, one degree above average.

The range was from 32 degrees on March 12 to 65 degrees on March 28. At the low level station the minimum was five degrees of frost
on March 6, and also on March 16.

WILD GUSHER OF OKLAHOMA FIELD

Inability to Restrict Output Makes It Serious Danger to Surrounding Country

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 1.— Defying man's puny efforts to restrict its towering strength, the Mary Sudik No. 1 wild oil gusher of the Oklahoma City field, today, hurled
a constant menace of thousands of barrels of oil hundreds of feet into the air.

All suggested precautions were being taken against the possibility of an outbreak of the grim terror of the oil fields—fire. Swept on the wings of a thirty-mile gale, petroleum-laden spray from what is termed the largest awed, high gravity well in the world, yesterday showered over the countryside to the north of the gusher.

Gravity of the situation was lessened somewhat during the night
when the wind abated.

A sudden flash of flame, igniting
the oil, would carry disaster and tremendous loss to the citizens of Oklahoma City, who, after years of effort, finally have proved that an extensive pool of liquid gold lies at their door.

The Oklahoma City pool discovery
well blew in December 4, 1928, marking the opening of what is classed as the largest pool in the Oklahoma area.

MANSLAUGHTER INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED

Spring Assizes Open—
Jury Finds True Bills
Against Rev. S. Lundie
and Henry Plater

DAWLEY AND VIPOND ALSO FACE CHARGES

Four indictments were presented to the grand jury when the Victoria Spring Assizes opened yesterday. By 3 o'clock in the afternoon the jury had disposed of all of them, and it then adjourned until today. The Crown Prosecutor stating that there might be some additional indictments to deal with.

True bills were returned against Henry Plater and Rev. S. Lundie, on manslaughter charges, and against Dawley and Vipond, charged jointly with housebreaking and theft. A charge of attempted robbery brought against Bertram Yeaton was dismissed.

After the grand jury had taken the oath in the traditional and impressive manner, they elected Mr. Thomas McPherson as their foreman. Mr. Justice Murphy proceeded to give the customary instructions. It was not their function, he told them, to try the guilt or innocence of those against whom indictments had been presented. They were concerned with two questions: (1) Has the alleged crime been committed? (2) Are the persons indicted so connected with the crime that they should be called upon for explanation. If these questions were answered in the affirmative a true bill should be returned and the case thus sent up to the petit jury for trial, otherwise they should return a "no bill."

DAWLEY AND VIPOND
Reviewing the several indictments, His Lordship observed that Dawley and Vipond were charged on two counts. One was that of unlawfully breaking into and entering the house of Mrs. B. More on Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay, and stealing. "Breaking into" here meant obtaining entry by opening a thing that had been left closed; for instance, a window or door. The second count, that of theft, required no explanation.

Bertram Yeaton was charged with attempted robbery. Robbery differed from theft in that violence or the threat of violence was involved. In this case it was alleged that Yeaton had stopped in front of a girl on the street and had called out "hands up." He had told her that she knew who he was and he had then run off, she stated. He had not committed a robbery but it was alleged that he had attempted to do so. His Lordship pointed out.

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE
Three counts were presented against Henry Plater: (1) Manslaughter, (2) doing grievous bodily harm, (3) doing bodily harm as a result of furious driving. The accused had been driving an automobile on the highway and it had collided with another. The collision had resulted in the death of a woman, Mrs. Davies. The element of criminal negligence entered into the charge. Anyone who has in his charge, or under his control, anything which may endanger human life in the absence of due care and precaution on his part, is criminally responsible for whatever may result from his neglect to take this care and precaution, the jury was informed. They had to consider whether an automobile was a danger to human life if driven without suitable care and precaution, and whether the accused had so driven an automobile on the occasion in question.

HUNTING ACCIDENT
Rev. S. Lundie was charged with manslaughter. He had gone hunting with a friend near Sooke. The two hunters had agreed to go in different directions at one o'clock, and the hunt, and had thus lost sight of each other. Later on, Mr. Lundie, it was stated, had seen a motion in some brush, and had fired at the place where it appeared, and had thus fatally shot his companion. The element of criminal responsibility for negligence entered into this case also. Was a rifle a danger to human life if fired without due care and precaution? Had the accused neglected to exercise such care and precaution?

Mr. Justice Murphy added that he had thus far dealt with their duty as grand jurors. They had also not the duty but the privilege to listen and report upon public institutions, if they wished to do so. The members of the grand jury are: Thomas McPherson (foreman of the jury), Hugh R. W. Allan, Harry T. Balnes, Edwin F. Easthope, William Hyslop, Walter G. C. Holland, James F. Mitchell, George W. Newton, Kenneth J. Oldfield, Francis A. Pearce, William J. Rennie, George C. Strath and Ernest H. Wilson.

Christian Science Sanatorium Opens

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1. — Under articles of incorporation already filed with the Secretary of State of California, permanent trustees took over on March 26 the ownership of the property and buildings which are to accommodate the Christian Science Benevolent Association for Pacific Coast. The association, which will open its doors to guests about the middle of May, was established in accordance with Section 8 of Article I of the Manual of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Benevolent Association for Pacific Coast is the third large charitable institution established by The Mother Church, totaling an investment of over $4,000,000. The Christian Science Benevolent Association, located in Chestnut Hill, Mass., was chartered in 1916, and The Christian Science Pleasant View Home, located in Concord, N.H., in 1925.

While all three of these corporations are independent from a legal point of view they are under the control and supervision of The Christian Science board of directors.

The California property, known as Arden Wood, is a thickly timbered, sixteen acre, piece of rolling land situated on the edge of San Francisco, its general location being between Twin Peaks and the ocean. The sanatorium is sheltered from the prevailing winds by the hill which forms the principal topographical feature of the property. No public roads or ways cross it, but paths will be arranged extending from the sanatorium through the woods, making a feature of a small ravine which runs along the east boundary.

The sanatorium, designed by Mr. Henry H. Guterson, architect, is of steel and reinforced concrete done in a modernized Breton style, with high central pavilion, tall classic French windows and steep-sloping, red tiled roof. It will contain accommodation for 120 guests and associates.

Within the last few weeks a substantial piece of property, jutting into the principal tract formerly held by the city of San Francisco for school purposes, has been purchased to secure additional quiet and freedom from outside disturbances.

The board of trustees of the San Francisco institution will be in constant touch with the Christian Science board of directors as are the boards of the two New England institutions.

The three trustees of the new corporation are Mrs. Gertrude M. Glass, Mr. George D. Greenwood and Mr. Marvin R. Higgins. Mr. Wilson D. Clark has been appointed manager-treasurer. All of these officers have been actively interested in Christian Science work for many years.

CAR OWNERS MAY WELCOME TAX INCREASE

More Miles Per Gallon of Gas on Better Roads With Less Cost for Car Upkeep

NO FORTUNES MADE ON PRICE ADVANCE

"The answer to the criticism leveled against the government because of the increase in the gasoline tax is that we expect our record sales of 1929 to be shattered in 1930."

was the way one oil company representative put it when approached yesterday for an opinion regarding the local situation, following the application of the Government's addition of two cents a gallon to gasoline on the opening day of the month.

The fact that local distributors bought all they could prior to the advance in the tax levy has very little significance, one dealer stated. The average storage facilities in connection with service stations and gas dealers in and about Victoria do not average more than 500 gallons, and the stores circulated to the effect that the dealers took advantage of the advance to stock up, so that a substantial profit could be made by the consumer, are hardly justified. Buying 500 gallons on Monday, March 31, would mean an added profit of two cents per gallon, the amount of the tax, or ten dollars in all. Hardly worthy of comment.

The same dealer was of the opinion that the price will welcome the tax and would pay more, provided the money was spent on the roads, and particularly if the licence were reduced. He pointed out that the money would cost the automobile owner less for upkeep and he could get more mileage from his gasoline if the roads were in better condition. Every car owner appreciates what good roads mean, but they object to the licence. That the sale of cars would be affected by the tax was hardly worth considering. If a man was going to deprive himself of a motor car for the sake of some 88 cents, the average increase in a year's gasoline supply to the car owner, he would not be considered a good prospect by a salesman.

Mr. R. H. Webb, of the Automobile Club, corroborated the statement of the dealer mentioned. He had, he stated, been told by a great many motorists that the gasoline tax was a reasonable one, and that good roads would more than offset the slight additional burden imposed through the attainment of greater mileage and decreased cost of car upkeep.

Mr. Webb submitted figures from an American automobile authority, showing the cost of operating a medium weight six cylinder car. On a high type road, the cost was 1.2 cents per mile; and on a low type road, 9.80 cents per mile. He also submitted figures published recently, which would answer, he said, the critics who are continually citing the advantages motorists enjoy in California and other Western States. The total cost per year in Nevada, where the tax is six cents per gallon of gas, is $80.78. In Washington, where the gas tax is three cents, the average cost is $42.98. In Oregon, where the gas tax is four cents, the total cost is $42.00; while in British Columbia the average is $28.80.

There are only five states in the American Union where the annual average costs of a motor car are lower than in British Columbia at the present time.

Possibility of the reappearance of the skirt dance, popular forty years ago, is seen in Europe following the lengthening of skirts. Dancing teachers are busy instructing girls how to handle long skirts in the ballroom, and they are having such enjoyment in the undulations of the draperies that the skirt dance is the next thing to expect, the teachers say.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CONSTIPATION?

Countless remedies are advertised for constipation. Many relieve for the moment but they are habit-forming and must be continued. Others contain calomel and dangerous mineral drugs, which remain in the system, settle in the joints and cause aches and pains. Some are harsh purgatives which cause griping and leave a depressed after-effect.

Avoid lubricating oils which only grease the intestines and encourage nature's machinery to become lazy. A purely vegetable laxative such as Carter's Little Liver Pills, gently touches the liver, bile starts to flow, the bowels move gently, the intestines are thoroughly cleansed and constipation poisons pass away. The stomach, liver and bowels are now active and the system enjoys a real tonic effect. All druggists 25c and 75c red packages. (Adv.)

Facilities Wanted For Shipping From B.C. to Jamaica

Victorian. Visiting Largest British Colony in West Indies. Stresses Need for Dependable Communication With This Province—Many Commodities Required in British Columbia

Caribbean Consumers Want Trade Development

THAT there were many lines of trade that could be developed between British Columbia and Jamaica, provided that there were dependable shipping facilities, was the statement made by Mr. Harry Hastings, of Victoria, who is now visiting in Kingston, Jamaica, in an air mail letter received by Mr. W. W. Duncan, director of markets, at the Parliament Buildings here. Mr. Hastings left Victoria six weeks ago and motored down to New Orleans. He took the Gulf steamer across to Jamaica, where he is investigating possibilities of development of the export business from British Columbia.

"There is a local ice factory here, with very limited storage capacity, which is being used for fish and other products, there being only three small rooms," said Mr. Hastings, in stressing the need of cold storage plants in Jamaica. He stated that any cold storage plants in British Columbia that would establish branches in Jamaica would be welcomed and would be supplying a crying need.

PRODUCE NEEDED
Mr. Hastings said he had no doubt that British Columbia could develop a good trade in exporting her frozen strawberries to Jamaica, but he felt that "until the question of cold storage here or elsewhere can be solved and adequate shipping facilities can be arranged for it is no use considering berries at present. The market is there, but how to get the product to the ships in good condition is the problem."

There is a market in Jamaica, for shingles, lumber, piling, roofing, paints, soap, all kinds of canned fruit, jams, pickles, canned vegetables, flour, fish (canned and fresh), eggs, butter and rice, but all this is at present dormant because of lack of proper and adequate shipping facilities, he stated. "The Gulf Line serves us once a month and takes a month to get here, but has no cold storage facilities, and carries no passengers, and its rates are almost prohibitive," Mr. Hastings declared.

"The people of Jamaica want to buy our goods, but they want us to take some of theirs as well, and there are many products they can supply us with, as well as many that we can ship to them."

"NERVOUS" MARKET
Mr. Hastings said that the importation of Jamaican goods into British Columbia amounts to over 30,000,000 pounds, fish being the principal article of protein diet with the bulk of the native population, nearly 1,000,000. "It is a pity that this opportunity should be wasted through lack of enterprise on the part of British Columbia manufacturers. This is a nervous market, and very conservative; half a day's discussion and personal contact is worth years of correspondence, and much more satisfactory," he stated.

Mr. Hastings enclosed the following editorial on "Trade With British Columbia," which appeared in the latest issue of The Jamaica Mail.

"Commercial and other interests in British Columbia desire closer contact with the British West Indies. In a way, British Columbia is a partner in the Canada-West Indies Trade Agreement, for she is an integral part of the great Dominion. Her products are many and varied, and must be sent across the continent to Montreal or Halifax to be shipped to these colonies by direct means, or they must pass over American territory to the port of New Orleans for shipping purposes.

"British Columbia wants our bananas, citrus fruits and other products, but without a line of refrigerated vessels that will call at this island, to be supplied with fruit, etc., and to sell for British Columbia via the Panama, regular contact with consumers on the Pacific coast is impossible."

Over 100 members attended the gathering and fifteen new members were initiated. There was a great deal of important business discussed dealing with the welfare of ex-servicemen. The question arose of married women being employed when their husbands are able to support them and also in regard to the number of single girls waiting about idle. On these subjects several resolutions were submitted and endorsed by the meeting.

GREAT FORCE OF LIGHT IS RECOGNIZED

Pathologist From Experimental Farm, Saanich, Tells Horticulturists of Its Wonders

GREEN PLANTS ARE STORES OF ENERGY

"If green plants lost their ability to store up the sun's energy as sugars, fats and proteins, the wheels of industry would stop in a very short space of time," said Dr. Newton, pathologist, of the Sidney Experimental Farm, in an address to the members of the Victoria Horticultural Society in the City Hall last evening. The subject of Dr. Newton's address was "The Selection of Ideal Plants as a Disease Control Measure and the Influence of Light on Plant Life." "Our present civilization," Dr. Newton continued, "differs from past civilizations in that we are tremendous users of energy, and the bulk of this energy has been stored up for us by the green plants. Our ancestors a few million years ago we sitting under the shade of what we are burning in our factory furnaces and motor cars. The coal oil and gas of today were the green vegetation of yesterday."

"The direct dependence on growth to light was not understood until early in the eighteenth century. Von Helmont, a Dutch scientist, was the first to show that only a small proportion of the substance of plants came from the soil. Priestly, an English physician, in 1770 showed that in the sun plants gave off pure oxygen. Since oxygen is necessary to support animal life, he came to the conclusion that plants are responsible for purifying the atmosphere. It was later found that the green leaf is the manufacturing centre of the plant. Plants that are not green, or not green enough, are parasites. Dr. Newton cited dodder and mistletoe as partly parasitic."

ENVIRONMENT, IMMUNITY
"Natural immunity from or resistance to disease is greater in plants, animals and human beings under an ideal environment. Within the last few years sunlight has been shown to be an effective cure for human disorders. Different species of plants have various requirements in the way of sunlight. Some have grown in the shade, others in strong light, and others under intermediate light conditions, for millions of years in their native or wild condition. Civilization does not change plants any more than humans as for as their response to light. Place a shade plant in the sun and disease will follow. Place a sun plant in the shade and you will upset its equilibrium and disease is the natural sequence. As gardeners, I advise you to study the light relations of your plants. The structure of the plant will give you some idea of whether it is a shade or a light-loving plant."

"Light has various effects on plants. The potato's natural habitat is the high elevations of the Andes. The higher you go the greater proportion of ultra-violet light there is in the atmosphere. It is surprising that on the Coast we should be troubled with virus diseases of potatoes and that, when these diseased potatoes are planted at high elevations in the Kootenays they should be free from injury by these diseases."

"The amount of light a plant receives influences the time of flowering. Of recent years horticulturists have been making use of shade and artificial light to bring plants into flower when the market demands the bloom. The influence of the plant will give you some idea of whether it is a shade or a light-loving plant."

PRUNING A FACTOR
Pruning was a factor in disease control, the speaker pointed out, and he gave a graphic description of a fruit tree in an unhealthy condition. Modern plant pathologists had discovered a new class of disease, known as virus, or degenerate diseases. These diseases run through the whole plant and create no conspicuous lesions. All that can be said about such plants is that they look sick. There is only one effective method of keeping these virus diseases out of your garden and it is by taking what appears to be the ideal or perfect flowers or vegetables in your garden, and using such plants as your stock or propagating plants."

The Dominion Rust Research Laboratory in Winnipeg has saved the farmers of the Prairies millions of dollars. They did it by discovering varieties of wheat that would resist rust disease. "When you select the perfect plant in your garden," concluded the speaker, "particularly if it is a cross-fertilized plant, you may select a type of flower or vegetable that is resistant to the principal diseases of the Victoria district."

There was a large attendance in the council chamber to hear the address of Dr. Newton, and a vote of thanks was passed by the president, Mr. Fred Landsberg, on a motion by Dr. Price.

"Can you keep a secret, daddy?" "Yes, Junior, what is it?" "Well, mamma just ran off with the chauffeur and they've taken the Cadillac."

BOY SCOUT HERO HONORED

How a Boy Scout rescued twelve women and children during the hurricane in the Bahamas last September was related when Lord Baden-Powell, the Chief Scout, awarded the bronze Cross, the highest award of the Boy Scouts' Association, to Scout Gordon O'Brien. O'Brien, who belongs to the 2nd Bahamas Troop, swam out to the steamship Priscilla with a lifeline after several rescuing boats had been overturned and hurled back to the shore. When the lifeline had been made fast, O'Brien, with assistance, pulled an open boat along the line, and so landed all of the passengers. When the hurricane was at its height, Scout E. W. Russell, of the same troop, braved his way for a mile and a half, carrying provisions to the isolated household of Dr. J. B. Allbury. He was awarded a silver cross.

Mrs. Hinoe—How is Bobby getting along with his violin lessons? Mrs. Lonote—Oh, just fine! Even when he is in another room, I can almost tell whether he is tuning up or playing.

ARE WEDDED AT OAKLANDS HALL

Miss Evelyn Constance Easton Becomes Bride of Mr. Edgar William Burkinshaw

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Oakland's Gospel Hall on Saturday evening, when Evelyn Constance, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Easton, Kings Road, was united in marriage to Mr. Edgar William Burkinshaw, youngest son of Mr. E. E. Burkinshaw and the late Mrs. Burkinshaw, of Rose Lynn, Alberta. Mrs. K. Easton and Miss Lilian Woodward were responsible for the charming decorations in the hall.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with a plain tight-fitting long-sleeved bodice and the skirt ending in an uneven hemline. A veil of embroidered Brussels net was held with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley.

Mrs. Kenneth Easton was matron of honor and wore a frock of pale green flat crepe and hat to match. Miss Opal Dewar, of Portland, was the bridesmaid, and wore a frock of pale yellow flat crepe and hat of the same shade. Their bouquets were of carnations, sweet peas and yellow iris. Mr. Carman Easton, of Seattle, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Kenneth Easton and Mr. John Ewart.

While the register was being signed, Miss Ora Jealous sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Miss Margaret Cuff.

A reception was held later at the home of the bride's parents. During the reception Miss Jealous sang "My Prayer for You," Mrs. C. A. Paul, of Seattle, sang "The Song of the Heart," and Miss Lilian Woodward contributed "When I'm With You."

Mr. and Mrs. Burkinshaw left on Sunday morning for California on board the Emma Alexander and on their return will live on Joseph Street. Among the wedding gifts was a silver tea service from the firm of A. J. Woodward & Sons, florists, where the bride had been employed. The out-of-town guests included Miss Fern James, Mrs. C. A. Paul and Mr. Carman Easton, all of Seattle.

"People would go to the national theatre as they go to church, because it was a duty and the proper thing,"—George Bernard Shaw.

Gas on Stomach Is Dangerous

TELLS HOW TO STOP IT
Gas, Pain, Bloating and a feeling of fullness after eating are almost certain evidence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Too much acid irritates the delicate stomach lining, frequently causing chronic gastritis and dangerous ulcers. Food ferments and sours, forming a gas that distends the stomach and often seriously affects the heart.

It is genuine folly to neglect such a condition or to treat with artificial digestive aids that cannot neutralize the stomach acid. A better way is to get from any reliable drug store some Bismarck Magnesia (powder or tablets) and take a little in water after each meal. Bismarck Magnesia will stop the worst gas attack quickly and without embarrassment. Taken right after eating, it prevents formation of gas and acids so there is no sourness, bloating or pain. Pleasant and perfectly harmless to use—Bismarck Magnesia does give wonderful relief in nine out of ten cases. Ask your doctor or druggist. Try it today.

NEW LECTURE IN GIVEN CATHEDRAL

A memorial lecture given by the relatives in memory of the late Mrs. R. N. King was dedicated at Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday morning, in connection with the usual morning services. The service took place just before the reading of the first lesson, when a small procession, consisting of the Dean of Columbia, the vergers, the Archdeacon and Rev. E. W. P. Carter, made its way to the front of the church, where the Decree read the usual prayers of dedication, in one of which it was cited that "we remember in love and gratitude before Almighty God the life and memory of the lectern is given." The lectern, which is of oak, was designed by Mr. J. C. M. Keith, architect of the cathedral, and is, therefore, in complete harmony with its furnishings. It stands just outside the chancel screen.

SAY RUSS PICTURE MIXED

Coming just at the time the Russian Government has ordered that the plough must be kept at work twenty-four hours of the day, all alleged disclosures that Soviet officials are living in luxury may cause trouble there if the word gets to the people. A visitor to Russia declares that palaces, once occupied by the princes and intimates of the old Russian Court, are now dwellings of these men, who are waited on "hand and foot" in their palaces. The order for more ploughing is because the co-operative farms are not producing as much as needed. If the farmer refuses to work overtime, he will get no food.

Canada Holding First Place for Financial Rise

(Canadian Press Cable)

LONDON, April 1.—Canada still holds first place in the British Empire as the fastest growing country, economically and financially, Hon. W. G. Ormsby-Gore, who was Under-Secretary for the Colonies in the last Conservative Government, told the Constitutional Club this afternoon. But it was a remarkable fact, he added, that the colonial section of the Empire, the vast federation of non-self-governing territories, had made a greater economic advance than any other portion of the Empire, except Canada, since the war.

Col. Ralston Is Host at Banquet To Delegations

The delegates sat down to well-laden tables covered with Canadian fruit. Over the door of the dining-room was the Canadian coat of arms, while the walls were hung with maple leaves and other emblems of Canada.

WELSH SINGERS ARE HEARD TWICE

Enthusiastic Audience at Shrine Auditorium Yesterday Afternoon and Evening Greet Choir

The Imperial Welsh Singers experienced two more triumphs here yesterday, being heard by enthusiastic audiences at their afternoon and evening concerts in the Shrine Auditorium. The hall was well filled with young people on the former occasion, and the conductor, Mr. R. Festyn Davies, was delighted with the close attention which they gave and the courteous yet enthusiastic manner which they displayed as listeners. He was so impressed with this that he made a brief speech from the stage, in which he remarked that it was the best mannered audience of children which he had had since he left the Old Country.

The rousing stanzas of "Men of Harlech," sung in Welsh, were used to open both programmes yesterday. In the evening the audience heard one of the finest numbers in the choir's whole repertoire in the "Pilgrim's Chorus" from Wagner's "Tannhauser." This was a magnificent example of great choral work, both in respect of the composition and the interpretation. The vocal color in this was incomparably fine. "Killarney" was a very pleasing work, and among the other popular numbers which were sung with perfect balance and the rounded melodic tone which makes even the slightest thing delightful to hear were "Poor Old Joe," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "Sleep, Kentucky Babe," "Down in the Valley" and "Farewell."

Henry Jones, baritone, was a particular favorite greatly on account of the happy choice of his numbers, an aria from "Carmen" and "The Blind Ploughman." The other soloists, Jack Newbury, basso, and Harry Williams, tenor, were also greatly enjoyed. The duets by Jabez Trevor and Howell Williams were close rivals of the choral numbers. "Watchman, What of the Night" and "Sons of the Mighty," being greeted with a perfect hail of applause. The young pianist-accompanist, Norman Evans, again won encomiums on all sides.

After the choir leaves British Columbia it is going on to Chicago to sing for the great international conference of Rotary. What its destinies thereafter will be is still in the lap of the gods, although Mr. Festyn Davies, the conductor, hopes to resume touring if he does not find an opportunity to continue his choir in some form as the Leland-Stanford and Hollywood bowl choirs, which he conducted in California with such success.

STAR OF ALASKA IS ON WAY NORTH

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The old full-rigged ship Star of Alaska will pass out of San Francisco Bay tomorrow in tow of the steamer Arctic, bound for Chignik and the Alaskan fishing grounds. The Star of Alaska will be the only fishing vessel sent north this year by the Alaska Packers' Association. Several schooners of the Union Fish Company have sailed for Alaska this year already. The schooner William H. Smith, which left here the middle of January, led the pack.

An ambitious young man and one who had already amassed a fortune, were talking things over.

"This correspondence school advertisement says that a man's financial success depends on what he does with his evenings," the first said.

"That's absolutely correct," stated the other with authority. "I wouldn't be wealthy today if I hadn't spent every evening courting an heiress."

SHE THOUGHT:
"I'd love to dance—but I can't stand 'B.O.'!"

Yet, to be polite,
SHE SAID:
"Oh, let's not dance. It's so warm in here."

No one liked to dance with him—until he ended "B.O."

THE same old story. Girls found him agreeable, attentive—they liked his looks, his manners. But they made excuses not to dance with him. And they seldom went out with him twice.

Then one day he found out why. "B.O."—body odor. . . Today he's a favorite everywhere. Girls enjoy dancing with him now. He knows the easy way to keep perspiration odorless.

"But I couldn't be guilty of body odor!" you say. Don't be too sure. Even on cool days, our pores give off a quart of odor-causing waste. We get so used to this ever-present odor that we don't notice it in ourselves. But others do!

So why take chances? Why not do as

Chapter's Work Discussed At Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Margaret Rooker Robertson Chapter, I.O.E., was held on Monday at Municipal Chapter headquarters, the regent, Mrs. L. A. Genge, in the chair.

Mrs. Luney, Echoes secretary, gave a most interesting report of the Municipal Chapter Annual.

The outstanding event mentioned by Mrs. Luney in the Educational report was the presentation, by Mrs. Genge, of pictures of the King and Queen to the Hillside Company of Girl Guides. Several members attended the company's meeting and were delightedly entertained with Guide songs and Guide games.

Mrs. Gordon Smith, treasurer, reported a balance of $182.78 in the treasury. The annual chapter fees to the League of Nations Society and Navy League will be sent immediately.

Mrs. Genge was appointed the chapter's delegate to the Provincial Chapter's annual meeting in April. Discussion of resolutions and suggestions scheduled to come up at the annual meeting were given special attention.

It was urged that as many members as possible attend the meetings, and those wishing to attend the dinner to be given by Municipal Chapter to visiting delegates, on April 24, are asked to communicate with the secretary, Miss A. B. Cooke, telephone 8137.

Generous donations were given in reply to several appeals presented. Tentative arrangements were made for the chapter's garden party, to be held early in June.

One new member was elected.

IRISH WOMAN, 119, CELEBRATES

Mrs. Mary Buckland, of Ballycomon, Ireland, claims that she is 119 years of age. She celebrated her birthday recently. Mrs. Buckland, who lost her eyesight in a motor accident a few years ago, stated that she traveled in the first stage coach that ran between Cork and Dublin, and that she has vivid recollections of a great storm that occurred in 1823. Despite her great age and infirmity, Mrs. Buckland takes an interest in current events. "The young women of today," she said, "won't reach my age. Their late hours and amusements will prevent that. 'Early to bed and early to rise' is my motto."

The Romantic Prince

By RAFAEL SABATINI

(Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance and Metropolitan Newspaper Service.)

Count Anthony and Johanna went into the garden, little caring to what extent they might be observed; he because he did not yet realize the situation in which he stood; she because she realized it but too well.

Beside him she came out upon the long terrace, and by its flight of steps down into the alleys of those spacious gardens, now drenched in the light of the August moon, where cool evening breezes sighed through the tall black poplars. Thus leaning upon the arm of this man, who to her was the man among men, this prince who announced himself ready either to raise her to his throne or else to fling his throne away for love of her, she went and wondered how fate could have found for her a more bitter mockery.

Because she had not trusted him, she had dishonored herself and him. Because of revulsion and heart-break, she had married Philip Danvelt. She had married an honest, kindly man whose she did not love, thereby wronging him and wronging herself. And of what measure was her punishment? It lay not merely in the knowledge that she had trusted and patience she would have had her heart's desire, but in the realization, which had been with her now for more than half a year, that her marriage had already endured, that the man she had married was a man whom she could never love, a man incapable of experiencing love or inspiring it, a man with whom life was to be a dull and dreary servitude bereft of all noble aspirations.

A few days it had taken her to perceive the magnitude of her error, to realize that she would have done infinitely better to have sought in the nunnery the shelter she desired from the world's evil, and bitterly to regret that she had not sought it.

Honest and kindly Danvelt might be, but only as he understood honesty and kindness. He proved, upon the most intimate acquaintance of matrimony, gross and boorish, of an almost incredible stupidity and with all the self-assertion and overbearing manner towards his inferiors and dependents that is stupidity's commonest expression. He was vain, too, and ostentatious without generosity, and while he could deck his wife richly and parade her on such occasions as the present with all the pride of possession, he had made it plain even in those early days that in his own house he would be not merely master, but tyrant, and that all things from the slightest to the weightiest his will must prevail unquestioned, and no opinion must ever be set against his own. He desired in a wife not a companion, but a woman to bear him his children and maintain his house.

She saw the dreary life ahead to which she stood committed, and alongside of it the life that might have been, the life that Anthony was even now offering her, still in blissful ignorance of the insurmountable barrier that already closed the way.

She drew a deep breath of the fragrant air of the summer night, and allowed it to escape again in a long sigh over the grave of withered hopes and forfeited opportunity.

"Take me back," she said gently; "I am better now, I should not have come out here."

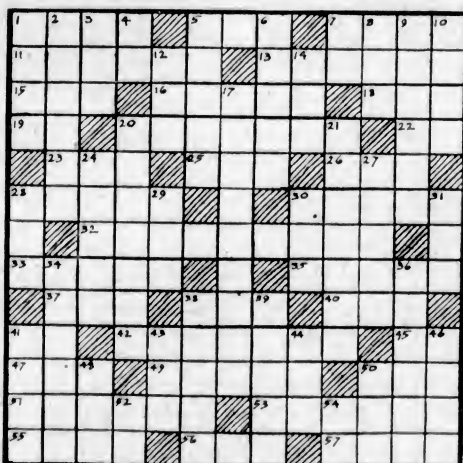

"Ah, wait. There is yet so much to say."

She laughed, but entirely without mirth. "Neither much nor little, my lord. All is said. All words have been spoken that have forged bonds never to be dissolved in life. I am the wife of Philip Danvelt. You are the wife of . . . the wife of Philip Danvelt? The wife?" he repeated the words dully, as if seeking to force their meaning upon his reluctant mind. "When? When did you become that?"

"Three weeks ago." Two months after I had left, believing that . . . He broke off for a spell they stood again in utter silence. Ahead of them at the little avenue's end a fountain played in the moonlight, the water quivering like molten silver in the broad stone basin. Behind them the tall windows glowed with golden light. Music and gay voices came wafted out from the scent of roses hung heavy about them on the tepid air. It was a moment of mutual anguish neither could ever forget.

Then he spoke quietly, almost in a great dignity. "It but remains, madam, to crave your pardon for my presumption, for all that I unwarrantably assumed concerning you. And yet . . . and yet . . . His voice warmed again, animated by the memories he reviewed. "And yet that presumption was not unwarranted. You suffered it; you listened to words whose import

"It cannot devour my marriage," she said firmly.

"Can it not? It could if it were strong enough, if it heeded nothing but itself, as love should."

She rose at that, shaking off the spell he seemed to weave about her. She stood straight and tense beside him. And her voice came firm and challenging.

"Be plain, my lord," she bade him. "You spoke of truth just now, and how it must prevail. Let it prevail here, and tell me what you are asking me to do?"

The question stunned him. What was he asking her to do? She was fast bound by certain legal ties that made her Danvelt's possession, a possession undisputable in honor.

He found the answer at last in his romanticism, in his idealism, and it had this virtue at least, that it was sincere.

"What am I asking? Something so vague, impalpable, and abstract that the world would mock me for desiring it. Hold me in your thought. I'll go my ways, nor trouble you again, who have troubled you so much and so clumsily."

He was startled and thrilled by the fall of a tear on his outstretched hand. He bore it to his lips. Her answer followed, faltering a little. "That you may have, because I cannot, if I would, withhold it. You shall be ever in my thoughts. As I conceive that you would have me be, so shall I seek to mould myself. Night and morning you shall have a place in my prayers. That is all I have to give you. . . . She paused a moment, then for the first time spoke his name. . . . "Anthony."

He bowed his head in silence, and in silence at last they retraced their steps.

BREAD QUESTION BEFORE BOARD

Equimait Board of Trade Determines to Proceed With Effort for Action

At the annual meeting of the Equimait Board of Trade the following were elected for two-year terms on the executive: Messrs. Wood, Hutchinson, Scott, Major Mulcahy and Major Crompton. The following complete the executive as they have one more year to run: Messrs. Durrant, Cooke, W. J. Heald, A. T. Weight and A. Young.

Mr. Weight stated that as there was a cloud hanging over him at the present time he felt that he should tender his resignation as secretary, which he did. But on a unanimous vote of the members his resignation was not accepted.

The committee on the price of bread reported that they expected all the island boards would co-operate with them, and that they would certainly make a big effort to have the price brought down particularly as flour had dropped from $1.20 a barrel to $1.00 a barrel. It was pointed out that a barrel of flour would make 20 sixteen-ounce loaves, and at 10 cents a loaf would be a selling price of $2.00 for the barrel of flour was the main ingredient in a loaf of bread.

The board also took up the question of having the Government take over Admirals and Equimait roads and making primary roads of them. A committee was appointed to discuss the matter with the Equimait council.

Miss Talmadge explained that she had read her lines as they were written in her script. Miss Talmadge's role is that of a show girl married to an indolent song writer (Gilbert Roland), and the story is of Broadway, the show business and the song writers' guild.

PLAYHOUSE Belle Baker, star of the theatre, Columbia musical drama now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, has been a vaudeville headliner for years. Her appearance on a bill always means S. R. O. business. Miss Baker has such a tremendous hold on the public because she puts her heart and soul into her songs. She will sing some of her great hits in "Song of Love" in addition to several songs that were written expressly for the picture.

ROYAL Patrons of the Royal Theatre are enjoying the clever mystery play, "The Whispering Gallery," which the Gordon McLeod Players are presenting this week. Besides being a thriller, there is a big slice of comedy, so that one moment one is holding one's breath with the tenses of the situation, and at the next holding one's side with laughter. There are several outstanding parts, chief of which are James McGrath as Detective Bird, Roland Gillett as Jim Stowell, and Claude Bailey as Abraham Lincoln Johnson. The two latter are responsible for most of the comedy which could not be in better hands. Gordon McLeod

VARIETY The tremendous excitement of a Wall Street panic is graphically portrayed in the thrilling three-act comedy-drama success, "The Dollar Mark—The Wall Street Crash," with which the Toby Leitch Players are attracting big audiences to the Variety Theatre this week. In the role of Toby Potter, rough and ready Arizona, whose keen brains are more than a match for the financial wiles of Wall Street Raymond, Toby Leitch achieves a spectacular, hilarious hit. Toby is screamingly funny in this unusual character part.

NEW RAIL ROUTE TO MOSCOW
With the conclusion of negotiations with Poland and other governments in regard to railroad administration and indications that the political questions will be settled satisfactorily, plans are being made for a new express connection from Western Europe to Moscow by way of East Prussia and the Polish Corridor. Extra cars will be run from Berlin to the Latvian-Russian border and there they will connect with the Riga-Moscow service, passengers transferring to the wider gauge Russian cars at Duenaburg, Latvia, a frontier station. The German Federal Railway plans to have the new service in operation by next Summer.

The Story Behind the Play

By J. J. GELLER

"THE MARRIAGE OF FIGARO"
When Louis XVI ascended the throne the age of scepticism had taken firm root in France. Rousseau, Beaumarchais, Voltaire and Diderot were in the vanguard of those who led the onslaught against the tyranny, persecution and ignorance which confronted the French masses. Beaumarchais contributed plays which cleverly assailed the follies of the ruling class. His "Barber of Seville" was nothing less than a charming tirade against the morals of his time.

For his second play Beaumarchais wrote a sequel, "The Marriage of Figaro." The scope of this comedy was more political, while the relation between the reigning nobility and common people was depicted with great malice. Beaumarchais offered his second comedy to the Theatre-Francaise, where it was readily accepted. During rehearsals various rumors leaked out from the theatre that "The Marriage of Figaro" mischievously held up the nobility to scorn and ridicule, which were enough to cause the king to forbid its public performance. This action, however, served to stimulate public curiosity and the author finally secured the royal sanction for its presentation. The comedy was given on April 15, 1784, and scored an instantaneous success. Beaumarchais' comedies, along with the searching polemics of the contemporary writers of his period, precipitated the French Revolution.

Following the Theatre-Francaise, the rounds of every city in Europe, where it met with generous favor. In Vienna Mozart saw it and expressed a desire to his patron, Baron Weyler, to set "The Marriage of Figaro" to music. It was this same Baron Weyler who brought about a meeting between Mozart and Lorenzo Da Ponte. The latter, a political exile from Venice, was a gifted librettist and readily consented to furnish a new operatic text for Beaumarchais' comedy. When it became noted about in Vienna that Mozart planned to compose an opera out of "The Marriage of Figaro," the Austrian Emperor frowned on the project. He reversed his opinion when he discovered that Da Ponte was to contribute the libretto, for it chanced that the Venetian exile had wormed himself into the good graces of the monarch. Da Ponte wisely eliminated the controversy between the two opposing classes in the play, maintaining that it was out of place in an opera. He retained Beaumarchais' peculiar view of morals, which he treated humorously. It took Mozart six weeks in which to compose the music. After considerable efforts on the part of his enemies to frustrate the production of this opera, "The Marriage of Figaro" was finally presented on May 1, 1786.

Flip Calls His Master

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When meeting strangers have a care; Of your approach I pray beware.

—Flip the Terrier.

Flip the Terrier had gone down on the Green Meadows. The ground was still frozen, but there was the feel of Spring in the air and it made Flip uneasy. He wanted to go roaming around, so he had gone down on the Green Meadows just to see what was to be seen. He was trotting along, halfway to the Smiling Pool, when ahead of him and a little to one side he saw something move. Instantly he turned in that direction.

Almost at once a queer-looking object began to flop along ahead of him, as if trying to get away from him. Of course, Flip became very much interested at once. He knew it was a bird, for he kept spreading its wings as it flopped along. It would stand almost straight and waddle in the funniest way and then pitch forward.

Flip began to bark and prance around it. The bird stopped flopping along and squatted down. Flip danced around it, more excited than ever, all the time barking. "The bird dared in to seize it. Instead of setting it, he jumped back with a sharp yelp. That bird had struck him with a long, sharp, pointed bill. Flip thought he could move quickly, but that bird was quicker than he. Right then and there was born a new and very great respect for this curious feathered person.

Flip looked back up at Farmer Brown's house. He saw Farmer Brown's boy walking toward the barn. Flip began to bark, as he does when he has cornered some one. Farmer Brown's boy stopped to look over toward Flip. He could see the little dog dancing about as if he were what he found now, said Farmer Brown's boy. "I wonder if Johnny Chuck has come out and Flip has found him. I can see something down there, but I can't make out what it is. I guess I'll have to go down and find out."

So Farmer Brown's boy started

down across the Green Meadows. Flip redoubled his barking when he saw his master coming. He kept making little rushes at something, but Farmer Brown's boy noticed that these rushes always stopped short of whatever or whoever it was he was rushing at. Flip grew a little bolder as his master approached. With his master there he felt braver. Once more he made a real attempt to seize that bird. Once more he jumped back with a sharp yelp.

Farmer Brown's boy chuckled. "Flip is getting more than he bargained for," said he. "As I live, I believe that is Dipper the Grebe. What under the sun is he doing down here on the Green Meadows here, Flip, here! Leave that bird alone!"

Reluctantly, Flip obeyed. He stopped the rushing and barking. Farmer Brown's boy stooped over and picked up that bird. It was Dipper the Grebe. Dipper, you know, is one of the water folk. He is in a way a sort of small cousin of Dippy the Loon.

CUT THIS OUT

If you know of someone who is troubled with catarrh of the ears, head noises or ordinary catarrh, cut out this formula and hand it to them, and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment. Now, a inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the eustachian tube into the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in the treatment of catarrh, should prove especially helpful in sufferers here who are under more favorable climate conditions. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Permin (double strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little crystallized soda. Dissolve. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Permin used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired result. The preparation is easy to make, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh of head noises or is hard of hearing, should give this treatment a trial. (Adv.)

WANT ASSURANCE OF FERRY SERVICE

Farmers and Business Men at 'Courtesy Outline Courtesy-Powell River Ferry Policy

Following the recent visit of Mr. W. W. Duncan, markets commissioner, the business-men of Courtenay and Cumberland with representatives of the various farmers' organizations of the Comox Valley, met on Monday night, it was resolved that: Providing the Government will immediately subsidize a ferry between Comox and Powell River for a term of three years.

1. The farmers will immediately call together as many producers as possible with a view to supplying the Powell River market.

2. That the business men of this district will immediately, in conjunction with the farmers, take steps to organize a central agency for the grading, packing, shipping and marketing of farm products.

3. And that in order that crops may be planted to supply the markets this season the Government be requested to take immediate steps to bring this matter to a definite head.

This was the result of a very well represented meeting, at which the discussions were frank and open.

Ball Clubs Commence Training Activities as Season Approaches

Teams Will Practise Nightly at Royal Athletic Park—Few Changes in Line-Up of Last Year's Clubs

WITH "Old Sol" casting down his rays in a generous manner for several days past, local ball clubs were busy getting in shape for the opening of the season. Little more than a month distant, practices are becoming almost a daily affair with players from all clubs in action. For the next five weeks the Royal Athletic Park will present a ball training camp nightly with each of the five clubs in the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League practicing one night a week. Monday night Manager Jack Curtis had his Sons of Canada ball tossers going through their paces, while last night Manager Lormier put the Tillamooks through a fast workout. The Tillamooks will work out tonight, followed by the Jokers Thursday and the Eagles Friday.

While the line-ups of the clubs are far from being completed, it looks as if a number of the new faces will be seen on the local ball lot when the curtain goes up on the 1930 season.

JOKERS HAVE SAME CLUB

The Jokers, last year's champions, will trot out practically the same club as that which annexed the City League honors and the Ribbet Cup. Their playing roster includes: Harry Downs, Wes Stickey, Dan Lidstone, Pollard, Dave Donaldson, Claude Belcher, "Cab" Collins, Jim D'Arcy, "Hap" Rivers, Bill Emery, Elmer Smith, Art Barry, Hughie Devereaux and Archie Hubbard. The champions' infield with one exception will be the same as last year. Belcher will hold down the initial cushion, Collins will cover the keyhole sack, D'Arcy will play short, and Bill Emery, a former member of the Sons of Canada, will handle the hot corner. Smith, Barry and Devereaux will do the daisy crushing. The Jokers' starting staff will be composed of Wes Stickey, Dan Lidstone, Pollard and Dave Donaldson. Downs will do the relieving.

Jack Curtis, veteran southpaw of the Capitals last season and manager of the Sons of Canada this year, has the major's position in last year's players back in the fold. Jack Bacon will be in his old position behind the bat, while Ray Parfitt, Eric Whitehead, a last year's member of the Tillamooks, Jack Noble and Roy Haines, will comprise the heating staff. Haines is a southpaw from Vancouver and is teamed with South Hill. Terminal League Champions last season. Manager Curtis considers this twirler one of the best finds in years. Kim Campbell has been assigned the second baseman's job, while Colin Campbell, a brother, will cover third. Manager Curtis is in the habit of securing Orville Falconer, who played short last year with the Canadians, to perform in this position this season. Just who will play first is not known. The outfielders in the Sons' camp include Bill Holman, Cliff Hilton, George Gandy and Jim Post.

How to Play Big League Baseball

(Former Pitcher, New York Giants)
During the past several years I have received hundreds of letters from boys asking me what they can do to improve their game. I have prepared a series of forty-eight articles on "How to Play Big League Baseball." These will appear twice a week in this paper throughout the baseball season. The first article will be published tomorrow. This "Big League Baseball" series analyzes the styles of the stars whose names are household words.

Every phase of the game will be covered, and I suggest that readers articles to preserve in scrapbook form.

Newly-Formed Vancouver Island Loop Adopts Regulations at Special Meeting

The drafting of the playing rules, the forming of a constitution and the naming of the opening date, was the business done by the temporary committee of the newly formed executive of the Vancouver Island Tennis League at a special meeting held in Dr. E. W. Hoak's office Monday. The following were present: Hugo Raymond, Ernest Levesque, Dr. Arthur Poyntz, C. F. Tyley, Dr. Boak and Ross Hoag.

ELKS LOOK STRONG

Manager Walter Lormier, of the Elks, has practically the Capitals club of last year intact for the coming campaign. Their playing roster at the present time looks strong and includes such well-known ball-tossers as: Herb Cummings, Murry Dunn, Norman Forbes, Roy Copas, Art Webster, Tommy Forbes, Tommy Bowden, Jack McKenzie and Jimmy Danglefield.

Brown, who covered the initial cushion for Sidney last season, and Doug McLaren, centre fielder for the Tillamooks, are the only players to be added to the playing roster of the Elks at this stage. Other players, members of last year's team include: McDonald, Bobby Ross, Essler, Johnny Latham, Bill Holman, Johnny Quinn, Steve Dunn and West Harper.

Medalist Taken to Eighteenth Golf Before Winning—Glenna Covert Easy Winner

PINEHURST, N.C., April 1.—A group of local matches, several of which ended in the early part of the second nine holes of play, featured the opening round of competitive play in the women's North and South amateur golf tournament here today.

Only two of the eight matches went the limit. Miss Maureen Orcutt, of New York, the medalist, was forced to the eighteenth by Miss Peggy Watties, of Buffalo, and Mrs. Leo D. Pederman, New York, staged a strong finish to take the last three holes and win on the eighteenth.

One of the surprises was the defeat of Miss Betty Abernethy of Pittsburgh, who was downed by Miss Louise Fordyce, Youngstown, Ohio, 8 and 7.

Miss Glenna Covert, National champion, who is defending her North and South title, found little difficulty in beating Mrs. John Arends, of Chicago, 7 and 6.

Miss Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa., defeated Miss Dorothy M. Smith, of Brooklyn, by 7 and 5. Miss Helen Hicks, Hewlett, L.I., banged out a 6 and 4 victory over Mrs. Edward Baker, Boston, Mass., scoring three birdies on her way. But Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, had some trouble beating Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes, of Washington, 2 up.

Mrs. Arthur Harrison, Lockport, N.Y., gave Miss Virginia Van Wie a scare and was 1 up at the end of the first nine. Miss Van Wie put on steam, however, starting at the eleventh, and took five of the next six holes.

Tomorrow's matches find Miss Fordyce playing Miss Hicks and Miss Quier taking on Miss Van Wie in the first bracket, while in the second bracket Mrs. Pederman and Miss Covert clash, and Mrs. Hill and Miss Orcutt fight it out.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Cancellation of the fight scheduled Friday night at Madison Square Garden, between Al Singer, New York light-weight title contender, and Ignacio Fernandez, Filipino puncher, was announced today as a result of a reported injury to Singer's right hand. An attempt was made to substitute Kack ("Kid") Berg, of England, for Singer.

Rough Conditions of Beach Force British Race Driver to Halt Tests—Will Ship Car Back Unless Course Improves Soon

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 1.—Indefinite postponement of his attempt to lower the world's automobile speed record was announced today by Don Maclean, British racing champion, who is attempting to set a new record on the beach. Don said indications were that the beach would not be in condition for speed for possibly a week or longer. Meanwhile he had ordered his mechanics to reduce the gear ratio in his Sunbeam River Bullet car, which, he said, would add considerably to his speed. He added that unless conditions became favorable within a week he would ship his great automobile back to England.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The New York State Athletic Commission today sanctioned a fifteen-round match between Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling, to be held at the Yankee Stadium, June 12, for the world's heavyweight title. The winner will be recognized in New York State as the successor to Gene Tunney.

Hudson's Bay Midweek Soccer Squad Will Face Saanich United in Important Match Today

With a win over Saanich United necessary to keep them close on the heels of the Navy in the race for the midweek soccer championship, the Hudson's Bay will be at full strength today at the Royal Athletic Park. The youthful suburbanites are a fighting aggregation and will be out battling night and main to defeat the green and gold squad.

At Beacon Hill, Navy, present leaders, will try conclusions with Batchelor's Food Store in what promises to be an interesting game. In their last meeting the sailors won by the odd goal in five, but today the Stores eleven have visions of reversing the call. Both games will start at 2:45 o'clock.

April Fool's Day Originated With Noah, the Ark—April Fool's Day is of ancient Indo-Aryan origin. The Hindus celebrate it as the festival of Huli, the chief feature of which is to send people on errands bound to end in disappointment. HUSKIES WIN THREE GAMES FROM TYPOS

Take Strangle Hold on Second Half Fivepin Title—Five Games Are Carded Today

TENPIN DOUBLES DRAW ANNOUNCED

Huskies gained a strangle hold on the second half fivepin championship last night on the Arcade Alley, when they rolled consistently to capture three out of four matches in the first round of the play-off from the Colonist Typos. Today the teams will meet in the final round of five games.

Spilling pins in all directions in all four games, the winners completely outclassed their opponents and captured the three games with plenty to spare. Although they continued their fine display in the fourth game, the Typos, chiefly through the bowling of Skellern, Anderson and Dunn, managed to come through with twenty-one pins to the good.

Jimmy Skellern, lead-off man for the Huskies, gained the individual honors by rolling 296 in his last game, while Bill Norris, of the Huskies, showed consistency and walked off with the aggregate honors with 997.

The draw for the tenpin doubles competition for today and tomorrow is as follows:

TODAY
Summers and Baines.
Nute and Jenkins.
Theobald and Leetham.
Piddell and Porter.
Riddell and Lacroix.

TOMORROW

Fairall and Collom.
Youhill and Steele.
Lyons and Skellern.
Potts and Mitchell.
Chislett and Wilson.

Huddersfield Town Defeats Burnley

LONDON, April 1.—Huddersfield Town defeated Burnley in a soccer football match today by three goals to one. The teams belong to the First Division of the English Football League.

MIRACULOUS SAVES

Only at that time did the Boston team outplay the visiting contingent. In the first period the dazzling Howie Morenz, purporting to be handicapped by a "Charley horse" raced over the ice like fury. On more than one occasion Tiny Thompson saved shots from him that were labeled.

Having amassed a commanding lead in the second period, the Canadiens gave a defensive demonstration in the final period that has not been surpassed in Boston this season. Meanwhile, the "royal" Boston crowd in the fastnesses of gallery and stadium, accompanied festivities with cries of "in the bag," and even stooped at times to booing the Boston club.

Both Oxford and Cambridge had very light workout in the morning, due to unfavorable tide conditions. They each paddled to the mile post, scoring a minute and a half afterwards, and Cambridge for two and a half minutes.

FLYING FRENCHMEN WIN OPENING CUP PLAY-OFF BY 3-0

Canadiens Display Great Speed in Taking Opening Game for World's Hockey Supremacy From Boston—Montrealers Score Two Counters in Middle Session

16,000 Spectators Jam Bruins' Arena to Witness Encounter

BOSTON, Mass., April 1.—The Canadiens of Montreal, brilliant, surprising and dazzling as ever, completely outplayed a saging group of Boston Bruins before 16,000 in the garden here tonight. They defeated the Boston, 3 to 0 in the first game of the challenge series for the Stanley cup, and now stand a single game away from the trophy of trophies. Albert "Battleship" Leduc and Sylvie Mantha, always dangerous opponents of the now tottering champions, were the big guns in the attack of the red shirted Frenchmen.

On the dying minutes of the third period, with four Bruins on the ice, Leduc broke away from the defence and scored the winning goal.

The period had been going on fifteen minutes before the first penalty. Then Barry and Wansie jabbed sticks at each other and were sent to the cooler. Morenz at once got away on one of his most brilliant dashes. He got by the Boston defence but carried a little too far in and left himself a bad angle.

Les Canadiens had all the better of the latter part of the period, and the Bruins' combinations did not seem to click.

SECOND PERIOD
The teams manoeuvred for a stretch at the start of the second period. Then Barry got a break and put Galbraith inside with a forward at the Canadian defence. Galbraith deked the Bruins' puck from the wing and it struck Laroche's stick and all but caromed into the cage. Hainsworth made a hurried save.

The Bruins got another chance a minute later, when Carson captured Shore's rebound in front of the net, but Hainsworth dropped quickly and closed the hole.

Morenz responded with a brilliant rush and a shot from the left which nearly got away from Thompson. It rolled over his leg as he lay prostrate and he nailed it on the red line with his hand.

Wansie returned from the penalty box and Owen was banished for charging McCaffrey. With this situation, "Battleship" Leduc scored for Les Canadiens on the end of a brilliant single-handed run. He eluded directly between the red Shore and the no less noted Hitchman, and, with Thompson at his mercy, flipped the puck into the right upper corner.

The Bruins tried to rally, but got nowhere against the intelligent French defence. Finally Joliat broke loose, leaving the whole Bruin forward line behind. Sylvie Mantha was on Aurel's right and Howie Morenz on his left.

This formidable trio bore down at Joliat, and the ice consisted of a lone Boston defence man and Pete's whirling low drive to the far side, completed the total of the Canadiens' goal and the game on ice.

Throughout the third period, a staunch Canadian defence gave a four-man Boston attack no chance. Jaded and hopeless, the Bruins kept trying, but their efforts lacked the verve and dash that carried them through an entire season of hockey with only few defeats.

Only in the dying minutes of the second period, with the Canadiens leading by two goals, did the Bruins play their normal attacking hockey. For a stretch of five minutes or more they fairly swarmed through the French defence, belting and flying shots at the net from every angle.

In that period of stress Hainsworth rose to new heights of goal tending skill, performing miracle after miracle, in front of the hard pressed audience.

Only at that time did the Boston team outplay the visiting contingent. In the first period the dazzling Howie Morenz, purporting to be handicapped by a "Charley horse" raced over the ice like fury. On more than one occasion Tiny Thompson saved shots from him that were labeled.

When it will not be necessary to have men with dark hair and dark complexion act the villain parts in plays and motion pictures produced for Nordic people, then will world peace be much nearer. This is the idea conveyed by Dr. L. F. Rushbrooke Williams, Foreign Minister of Patiala State, India. He recently declared that our entire civilization depends upon our overcoming racial instincts which cause color prejudice. His experience in an Indian state has led him to believe that it is possible for Englishmen and Indians to mingle not merely in perfect harmony, but without the slightest consciousness of racial antagonism. Color prejudices, he adds, could be removed if parents would teach their children to look upon foreigners as friends and not as curiosities.

SCOUTS NOT IRRELIGIOUS OR MILITARY

Ex-Commissioner Solloway,
of the Scout Association, Tells Kiwanians of Jamboree

SCOUT SIGN TO BE EMBLEM OF PEACE

Telling members of the Kiwanis Club at the weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday of the jamboree in England last year, Mr. W. Solloway, ex-commissioner of the Scout Association, paid a tribute to the work of the Kiwanis Club, referring in particular to the part the organization played in connection with the erection of the new Scout headquarters on Johnson Street, to be officially opened on Friday evening by His Excellency the Governor-General.

By providing for the boy life of the community, the Kiwanis Club was making a valuable contribution to the nation. The Scouts of today, a few years hence, would be men filling positions of international responsibility.

The jamboree in England, marking the twenty-first anniversary of Scouting, was too big to be described in detail, said Mr. Solloway in giving some impressions acquired there. Forty-two nations of the world were represented in the 60,000 boys camped at Birkenhead. It had been said that the Scouts were a military organization and irreligious, the speaker continued. Both these charges were refuted in the lessons of the jamboree. In connection with the charge of militarism, it took more than military discipline to keep 60,000 boys in order without the assistance or attention of police. The Scout law and the fact that they were brother Scouts made order possible, and not any military regulations. And anyone who witnessed the service of thanksgiving, which took place on August 4, 1929, in a driving rain, when the 60,000 boys sang together a thanksgiving hymn in English, would readily be convinced that there was nothing to the irreligious charge. Mr. Solloway described a number of humorous incidents which occurred during the great meeting of Scouts, and praised the general conduct and appearance of the Canadian boys present. He had great hope for the future and was sure with the growing up of the

The above deal is one in which North and South can game at Hearts only. At but one table, however, in the Duplicate Contract game in which this deal occurred, was the hand played at Hearts.

At three tables, North played the hand at four Spades, and at two tables South played the hand at five Clubs.

Also, at two tables East and West played the hand at three Diamonds and at one of these the contract was doubled—East and West going down 1,000 points as they were vulnerable.

The salient point of the hand, however, is the fact that, with correct bidding, it should be played by South at four Hearts. I cannot well see how North and South can soundly arrive at a bid of four Spades or five Clubs.

Mourning orders issued recently by provincial headquarters must be strictly adhered to.

Flags and totem poles are to have large crepe bows attached. Mourning will be observed for a thirty-day period ending April 22, as a mark of respect for the late Chief Commissioner J. W. Robertson, C.M.G., L.L.D.

St. Barnabas' Pack—Good progress has been made with compass work and an exciting game has been invented which includes message running. Games played included "knotting pairs," "ball throwing" and "train tag." The troop and pack held a combined meeting last week. Mr. R. L. Longlow, bishop of the diocese, and pack committee, and Scout Jimmy Tower were visitors at the last meeting. The troop and pack have suffered a very personal loss in the passing of Mrs. P. L. Rawlings, who has, for so long, worked ardently and unselfishly for the cause of Scouting in connection with St. Barnabas'. As a token of sympathy an extra three days' mourning will be observed, beyond the thirty-day period now in progress.

St. Mary's North—Two recruits were enrolled at the last meeting and welcomed into the pack as brother Wolf Cubs—Teddy Cridge, of the Brown Wolves, and Kenneth Robinson, Grey Wolves. After the enrollment ceremony Scoutmaster R. A. Forrester told the Cubs a very good yarn on "Good Turns." During the meeting Tanderpad Michael Darling passed his ball-throwing test and Tanderpad Phillip Ballam his skipping and book-balancing fire-fighting, signaling, knotting, ball-throwing and flag tests were practiced. A very interesting story by Baloo were enjoyed by the pack. Mr. F. B. Robinson was a welcome visitor during the afternoon.

St. Paul's Pack—Much progress was made in first and second star work. A very welcome visitor during the meeting was Mrs. V. Ireland from the Esquimalt Girl Guides. Miss Ireland taught the Tanderpads their knots, while Ahela and Cub Instructor W. Phillips taught first aid and signaling. The Brown Wolves gained most points for names

North Quadra Pack—Tests passed during the last two meetings are: Somersault, G. Bell, T. Waring; skipping, T. Waring; ball throwing and catching, S. and G. Bell; reef and bowline knots, S. Bell; book balancing, G. Bell. Spot the change and creep were played at the last meeting, at the end of which two more recruits, I. Speller and Prendergast, took their promise, and were enrolled as Wolf Cubs. Instructor N. Myles and Sister L. Irving received their second year's service stars.

WHEN YOUR NOSE KNOWS

A woman who was unable to smell went into a basement where a gas main was leaking. She remained until she was unconscious, when a relative happened to smell the gas, hunted for it, and found her. Most of us could have easily detected the faintest gas leak. Indeed, the nose often warns us of dangers even though we do not regard the sense of smell as very important. It is very easy for us, for example, to detect the odor of burning wood or cloth.

Most of us take the sense of smell as a matter of course until we get a cold and then we find that many foods do not taste quite right. This is because the sense of smell is closely tied in with the sense of taste. It is said that one with a total loss of smell can detect very little difference in the flavor of a soup from an onion. The sense of but before a man can do as well he has to wet his finger in his mouth and then hold it up and he can then tell that the odor comes from the direction that his finger is coldest.

The emotions are very closely related to the sense of odor and smell, and can cause pleasantness or depression or delight. This is the origin of the use of incense in churches. Many perfumes are known to have the effect of stirring up the wooing instinct. The fragrance of flowers is not for the purpose of pleasing or displeasing man. It is more definitely designed to please the butterfly, the moth, or the bee which is going to cross-fertilize the blossom. It is said that there are so many romances in the springtime because of the many fragrant odors in the air at that time. Male butterflies are said to have a peculiar perfume which is said to attract the female. Among human beings, this seems to be reversed for, although most men have a better sense of smell than most women, it is the women who use most of the perfume.

There are two important smells which are known as racial smells. One of these is the smell from the wood fire, another is the smell of
